The University Cross When I survey the wondrous cross On which the Prince of glory died. My richest gain I count but loss, And pour contempt on all my pride. Forbid it Lord, that I should beast Save in the death of Christ, my Lord; All the vain things that charm me most, I sacrifice them to His blood. See, from His head, His hands, His feet, Sorrow and love flow mingled down; Did e'er such love and sorrow meet, Or thorns compose so rich a crown? Were the whole realm of nature mine, That were a present far too small: Love so amaking, so divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all.
